To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is being written on behalf of Russian Duo, who presented a concert for the Conservancy for CVNP at Happy Days Lodge on June 9, 2013. Terry Boyarsky and Oleg Kruglyakov are both top notch musicians who present a concert with a high level of artistry, yet manage to keep it quite entertaining. Their concert included tidbits of musical history and ethnology along with their splendid performance. Our audience was delighted!

Terry was a gem to work with, responding quickly and providing information and help whenever needed. She also set up interviews with local radio personalities and other media prior to the concert. The duo's web presence is strong, and the advertising they produced for the event brought out many in the Cleveland Russian community who had never attended our concerts before.

I will highly recommend Russian Duo to other presenters, and look forward to producing another concert with them in the future.

Sincerely,

Jane Berkner
Director of Arts and Enrichment
